

Housing Solicitor
(or experienced Housing Adviser)

Working Hours: Full-Time (35 hrs pw)

Salary: £36k - £42k depending on experience

We're after an enthusiastic housing lawyer (experienced Housing Adviser also considered - salary commensurate with experience) to join a dedicated team who are all passionate about housing justice.

Advice for Renters is a very special place to work. We are dedicated to giving clients a superlative, wholistic service, where we employ our in-depth knowledge, creativity and dogged persistence to get them the best results. We have a real expertise in, and dedication to helping private tenants, but also assist clients in all tenures, as well as the homeless.

We take the working environment just as seriously. In joining A4R you will be joining a friendly, team, with a collegiate atmosphere, where knowledge and ideas are shared. We are results oriented rather than targets driven. The year we have just lived through has changed the game and we are happy to embrace the change. We are happy to offer working from home or the office or a mixture of both. We are also willing to consider job sharing or someone looking for a part-time role.

If you believe in our values and vision, come on board and help create a more equal housing system, join our loyal and hardworking team with a low staff turnover. Our staff work for us because they believe in the core values and mission of the organisation and our commitment to housing equality. We're a small organisation with a big voice. This is not just a job; it is a vocation.

You must be a qualified Solicitor with solid experience and an in-depth knowledge of housing law. You will have, a commitment to superlative client care and have great organisational skills and be able to work with minimal supervision, meeting tight deadlines and maintaining high levels of accuracy. You will be IT literate, self-servicing and have a good working knowledge of Legal Aid processes (although you will receive great admin support). You will be able to contribute to the growth and development of Advice for Renters` services.

If you'd like to talk to our CEO Jacky Peacock or Ronald Daley, the Head of our Housing Advice Centre, please call 020 3841 6930 to book a telephone appointment.
