SOLICITOR VACANCY – COURT OF PROTECTION (WELFARE)

Extended closing date: 3 May 2022, 5pm

We are a specialist legal aid practice located at London Bridge.

We advise and represent disabled people in welfare and hybrid proceedings under the Mental Capacity Act in the Court of Protection as well as advising in community care law. We are regularly instructed by the Official Solicitor and have contracts with the Legal Aid Agency in community care and public law.

You can make a real difference using your legal and interpersonal skills within a friendly and highly driven firm with a national reputation for excellence.

We are seeking an experienced full time solicitor to join our mental capacity team to work alongside our team of Directors, Nicola Mackintosh QC (Hon) and Zena Soormally Bolwig, and our other solicitors undertaking complex and strategic casework in the Court of Protection.

You will have experience in conducting a health and welfare caseload in the Court of Protection and providing support and supervision to others. You will preferably be a current legal aid supervisor or be eligible to meet the supervisor requirements in community care.

What is vital is your drive and hunger for the work that we do and your wish to be part of our specialist team acting for vulnerable clients. We particularly encourage candidates who want a challenge and would like to progress their career in an exciting direction. We will provide the support to make that happen.
